

PATRICIO MANUEL
C A C A H U A T E

Media Kit

STATS

Name:

Patricio Manuel

Nickname:

Cacaahuate ("Peanut")

Height:

5'6

Weight:

126

Hometown:

Los Angeles, CA

1st

TRANSGENDER
MALE BOXER

BIO

Patricio "Pat" Manuel (known as "Cacahuate" in the boxing world) is the first transgender professional boxer in the United States, and the first transgender male professional boxer in the world. He received his license from the California State Athletic Commission on September 4, 2018, making history once again.

Prior to transitioning, Pat was a five-time national champion in the amateur women's division, participating in the first-ever US women's boxing trials for the 2012 Olympics. Losing his Olympic dream gave Pat the freedom to finally share with the world what he had always known in his heart: he is a transgender man. In 2013, he began medically transitioning under a doctor's supervision, following USA Boxing and International Olympic Committee guidelines. He stepped back into the ring on May 5, 2016 – in the amateur male division – and won.

Pat is now training to make his pro debut in the male division by the end of 2018.

Pat's story has already garnered major press, including coverage in the LA Times, HBO, Paper Magazine, LA Weekly, Univision, Telemundo, Fox, Ring Magazine, International Olympic Channel, BuzzFeed, Refinery29, ColorLines and KTLA.

MEDIA APPEARANCES

HBO

The Fight Game With
Jim Lampley:

WATCH

PAPER

READ

READ

Los Angeles Times

READ

the RING
THE BIBLE OF BOXING

READ

OLYMPIC CHANNEL

Webby Award-winning documentary "Identify," by VICE

WATCH

FOX

WATCH

LA WEEKLY

READ

READ

TELEMUNDO

WATCH

Speaking Engagements

Transform California

READ

Pride Center (keynote speaker):

READ

Contact

 email: contact@patmanuel.com

 phone: 310-400-2489

 Instagram: @team_pat_manuel

 FB: facebook.com/peanutboxing/

 Twitter: @peanutmanuel

